

Press release:

The second meeting of the International project of IMIS (Internationalisation Management in Schools) was held in Jankowice, Poland, January 21-28. The host school for this second meeting was: Szkoła Podstawowa 1m. Stanisława Stszica. Students from Lithuania, France and The Netherlands were hosted in guest families. Teachers from Spain were also present. Unfortunately it was not possible for the students and teachers from the partner school in Sint Maarten to come over. They will be fully involved after the first project year. IMIS is a project with the objective to introduce internationalization element in all classes in the entire school.

In snowy conditions all students arrived at school at Sunday and were introduced to their Polish partner by Beata Nogly as Polish coordinator of this Erasmus+ project. Always an exciting moment.

During the first day at school all teachers heard good stories about the Polish families. So no problems about that. The agenda was fully filled with introduction games, presentations about the first topic we worked on: heroes. From Superman to David Bowie, from Batman to James Bond. Great presentations were shown. I must have taken a lot of time to produce such great works.

During the week the students were actively involved in English and German lessons, introduces their own countries, created posters about internationalization, made summaries of outings went bowling and skating. Of course there were also cultural highlights: to Cracow and the famous salt mine of "Wieliczka". The evening outing in the mountains in a horse sledge was a real surprise. No one never had heard of Wisla, but now we will never forget. After the horse sledge ride we had warm tea, bread and barbecued 'bratwurst'.

The last day ended with a tour in Rybnik, a nice small city with a beautiful market square. Here the students completed a tour by answering questions about the highlights of the city.

On Friday and Saturday all delegations left Poland with warm feelings after a great week!
